Synopsis

Dante "Inferno" Jones is used to winning in the ring. But when the MMA fighter meets pretty Caitlyn Moore, he seems to be striking out left and right. The more Cait denies his advances, the more intrigued he becomes by the sharp-tongued beauty. She's a challenge he can't resist. Comfortable with the average Joe, Cait doesn't get it when the ultra-masculine Dante walks into her life and expresses an interest in her. Sure, she's shed eighty pounds and her confidence is building, but there's nothing spectacular about her. Certainly not enough to hang onto a ripped babe-magnet like Dante, whose violent profession, catty groupies, and cruel competitors are already making her life a living hell. Dante's light-hearted pursuit quickly becomes a battle to win her heart as they find themselves thrown together again and again—and it's affecting his training. Cait won't let him lose the biggest fight of his career because of her, but when her plan to keep him focused lands her in the dangerous clutches of Dante's vicious opponent, there is more at stake than just the championship belt.

Customer Reviews

~Reviewed by ANN & posted at Under the Covers Book Blog This book didn't work for me. Apart from Dante, who really is a decent character, the book felt flat. Therefore, I can't recommend and would pass this up. ~ Under the Covers There were two reasons why I picked up this book: 1. The cover - Look at those abs! 2. I read the blurb and when I saw that the hero, Dante was a MMA fighter, I knew I had to have it! Unfortunately for me, that's where my love for the book started and ended. Caitlyn Moore believes herself to be fat. She doesn't have a healthy self image and it is very, very prominent in this book. She is so insecure about herself that it's a downer and instead of making me connect with her, it only infuriated me. All she thinks about is her weight, weight, weight, which in turn causes her to worry, worry, worry. When Dante Jones, a hot MMA fighter expresses some interests in her, she completely shuts him down. And when he persists, she does it again and again. All her moaning about being not good enough for Dante because of her distorted body image was so persistent that I ended up believing that about Cait. She doesn't deserve Dante. Dante is a really nice guy and he genuinely wanted to be with her but because of her attitude and her hang ups, Cait doesn't see that. As a result, I thought that there was zero chemistry between the hero and heroine. As much as Dante tries - and Lord knows the boy does try very hard - in the end, I felt nothing for the couple. Niles kept saying how there was such great chemistry between them, that one sizzling hot look said it all - but the author never showed it. It's not enough for me to tell readers that there is chemistry between characters. You have to show it.

**4 out of 5 Stars** Read my full review at [...]. What to say, what to say? This was an awesome book! I loved every last second of it. It kept me wrapped up in the story from page one. It's intense and you feel every emotion that each character does. I connected with the characters right away. I was glad because lately this has been a problem. I understood them and I understood how they felt. The plot was great and the writing style more than easy to follow. She's a challenge...one he's more than happy to chase! Caitlyn or Cait in my opinion is a strong woman. She grew so much in this book...by leaps and bounds! She's red headed with green eyes. she's never really had a lot of success in the dating world. She's beautiful inside and out. Her outward appearance is a big issue for her. She's been heavy all her life and has recently lost 80lbs. She's a size 12. Everyone sees her as just that but in her head she's still a size 22. She struggles with body image and hurtful comments daily. She wears baggy clothes to hide her body and she's so skiddish. I loved her and her journey. She is an instructor in a gym and teaches a class called "Altering Assumptions." Dante "Inferno" Jones is a cage fighter in the MMA circuit. His nickname is good for him. It explains him to a T! He's tall, has dark hair and blue eyes. He has tattoos and muscles. He's a fighter so you know he's built like something from another world. He's possessive and persistent. Once he sees Caitlyn as his there is no stopping him. He loves fiercely just as he fights fiercely. They meet at an after party following a fight. She has no interest in his world but is intrigued by the man.
