This book is the perfect guide to Texas rivers. It gives a description of each river, including different runs on each. It provides information on camping in the area, where to rent a canoe, rapid class categories, phone numbers for flow information and myriad other details that give you the confidence to literally pick a trip from the book and do it! I'm buying my second copy.

This Essential Reference book opens with detailed local fish population info and photos. Statewide canoe/paddling clubs are listed next along with recommended equipment diagrams & checklists and a glossary of useful river/paddling terms.(worthy of purchase alone) THEN you get an alphebetically listed, turn by turn, comprehensive diagram and description of multiple rivers in 3 states. Enough said? Too bad this is getting so hard to find!

This book is the authority on where to raft/kayak/canoe - you get all the info you need about drop-off and pick-up points, plus mile-by-mile information. Great book - I wish the authors would revise their last edition (2000)! Still, the 2000 edition is very helpful. Highly recommended to Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas canoeists/kayakers!

Looking for new river trip or want to read up on your local section in Texas, Oklahoma, or Arkansas. We'll then this is the book for you. Worth the price, it's a gem. Has every thing you need to know about all the rivers in these three states.

This has been the only book I've found that is a good canoeing guide for the rivers in TX (it includes AR and OK too). Each description is about 1 page in length and has the following sections: physical location, general comments, water quality, water flow, preferred seasons, hazards, put in, take out, camping, canoe rental & shuttle service, distinguishing features, fishing, maps and where to get river flow information. Each river also has a map that shows mileage, creeks, roads, etc. Overall, it was a good purchase but a little pricey.

Great maps -just wish someone would do an update (published in 2000-) on these rivers -as vantage points and outfitters come and go over the years !!!!
